Work has begun on the new standpipe, or water tower, on the lot in Ledward avenue, recently purchased from the New England granite works. The pipe will be forty feet in diameter and seventy feet high and will have a capacity of $53,000 galloons. It will be built of reinforced concrete. The contract for its construction has been awarded to a company in Boston. It will be artistic in style and cost about will be artistic in style and cost about $25,000.

The continual extension of the water system, the increased consumption of water, the addition of the Watch Hill fire district and the enlarging of the Westerly fire district requiring more fire protection, has made necessary this additional water storage.

The present wrought iron standpipe, iocated near the site of the new structure, was built in 1886, is thirty feet in diameter and seventy-five feet high, with a capacity of 370,100 gallons, making a total storage capacity of the old and new towers of 1,028,000 gallons. The life of a wrought iron standpipe of this character is estimated to be about thirty years, yet the indications are that the present one can do service for a longer period. Still the water commissioners propose to be prepared for the time when prufence will require the discontinuation of its use.

The average daily pumpage of water or last July was 942,000 gallons, and many days during that month and lugust the pumpage exceeded 1,000,000 gallons, or approximately three imes the capacity of the present tendpipe. Therefore should there be no reserve was available for fire purposes or for accident to the system. Next year it will be necessary to repair the old standpipe and in view of the large additional fire protection, the water department decided upon this additional storage, to avoid the damage from a shortage of water while this work is being done.

A concrete standpipe of the character to be constructed on Quarry hill will last for all time, and there will be little, if any, annual cost for maintenance. A number of these reinforced concrete steel standpipes have been constructed during the past two forced concrete steel standpipes have been constructed during the past two years, and are in successful use.

The Westerly waterworks is of the pumping system from driven wells, and the water has been shown by analysis to be the purest in the state. Fourteen new two and one-half inch wells have been added to the system, making the total number of wells now in use fifty-three. The total quantity of water pumped has been 1264.737.100 gallons, a daily average of 752,390 gallons. The increase in pumpage over last year has been 18,-677,700 gallons.

A dog belonging to a Wakefield man strayed away and a reward of $25 was offered for its return. Someone reported that a dog answering the description of the one lost had been seen in Westerly and Tom Totten came here in an automobile in search of the barker. He stopped at Smith's garage, and incidentally asked if the dog which he described had been seen in that vicinity. He was informed that the dog had been virtually kicked out the Minchen yard and out of the garage.

The committee appointed at the annual financial town meeting to consider all matters pertaining to the proposition of changing the grade of Union street will make a comprehensive report to the adjourned meeting.

After the continuation of several minor civil cases, Judge William, in the Third district court, Friday, gave attention to liquor cases. In the case of liquors and vessels seized at the home of Frank Lavalette, Chief Bransfield and Constable John Reardon testified as to the liquors being found and taken away. There was no claimant and the liquors were declared forfeited to the state and ordered destroyed.

Thomas E. Brown, sergeant of police, and Chief Bransfield testified to the seizure of liquors at the store of John Gencarilla. There was no one to answer the complaint against the liquors and they were forfeited to the state for destruction.

After the testimony of Chief Bransfield and Sergeant Brown, like disposition was made of liquors seized at the residence of Herbert W. Thompson, which was represented to contain a kitchen barroom.

Without the borders of Ridgebury village there is a ledge of rock composed chiefly of a micaceous deposit. The indications of mics in this vicinity are not altogether a rare discovery for there are many of these quarries in this part of the country. The location of this mica bed is only a short distance from the village proper. The exact quantity contained in this particular ledge cannot be correctly determined unless more closely inspected. If outward appearances have any bearing on what might be found farther in the depths of earth there would undoubtedly be ample material disclosed to make it an object for prospectors to engage in developing what might prove to be a mine of importance. There is always a demand for this quality of mineral as the use of the mica is valuable for many purposes, and after a thorough investigation made on this property. If the amount found should prove to be sufficient to warrant further operations the money invested would in return bring in a fair profit to the speculator. There is only one instance where an industry of this kind was attempted in that locality and that is said to be in the vicinity of Lime Stone district, which has long since been discontinued on account of the supply having become exhausted which necessitated the closing of the plant.

The one great ambition nowadays to find something which the people gram.

When legislation gets to a point, where the sole excuse for the enactance is no legal holiday in the month, it is fretty poor line of reasoning to say the least. That is the most tangible argument being made for this festival to date. On this basis, New Year's day will have to be added in time, and each month, which is minus such a legal holiday will be provided with it.—Boston Letter to Worcester Telegram.
